The Reward

A lady who is now a teacher spent four years at a training school at a cost of about $1,600. Her younger sister attended our school at a cost of about $100. The younger sister is now earning about $200 a year more than the elder one.

Which investment is paying the better?

The experience of these young ladies ought to help others in their decision. If you want to develop your earning ability to the greatest degree, get your training here.

Our illustrated circular will give you details. It is free. Call, write or phone Main 4304 for it today.

TURKS TO GIVE UP TERRITORY TO BULGARIA IN NEXT FEW DAYS

SOFIA, Bulgaria, September 8, via Paris, September 11.—The Turco-Bulgarian negotiations concerning a boundary adjustment have been concluded, Turkey will formally turn over to Bulgaria the territory in question within a few days.

The territory to be ceded runs along the Dedeagatch railroad. The transfer will be made by the governor of Adrianople to the prefect of Stara Zagora.

Rumania Is Answered.

Discussing Rumania's claims that Bulgaria had not been inclined to enter into negotiations with Rumania concerning matters which were considered an obstacle to a better understanding between the two countries, the statement was made at the Bulgarian foreign office today that Premier Radoslavoff had not been able to show the entente ministers here that the fault was not Bulgaria's.

Several weeks ago while M. Derussi, the Rumanian minister to Bulgaria, was absent, leaving Charge d'Affaires Guarnesco in charge, a meeting of one of the entente ministers and Premier Radoslavoff took place with M. Guarnesco present. The entente minister mentioned reproachfully that Bulgaria was doing nothing toward cultivating better relations with Rumania.

Dodges Negotiations.

Premier Radoslavoff, according to the statement, then asked M. Guarnesco, in the presence of the entente minister, whether Rumania was willing to enter into negotiations with Bulgaria, to which M. Guarnesco replied: "I have no instructions from my government to that effect."

The second effort to convince the entente minister here that Rumania, not Bulgaria, was at fault was made by Premier Radoslavoff at a dinner given by the entente minister in honor of the new British minister, Hugh J. O'Leary, at which the premier was guest. The Rumanian minister, M. Derussi, however, was absent.

The entente minister is estimated that Bulgaria was blocking the road to an agreement with Rumania. Premier Radoslavoff suggested that M. Derussi be sent for. This was done, and when questioned, the Rumanian minister answered that he was not empowered to enter into negotiations. The dinner took place in the Russian legation, and the question was put by the Russian minister, M. Savinsky.

May Aid Central Powers.

COLOGNE, Germany, via London, September 11.—According to the Cologne Gazette, the Bulgarian government is sending an official pamphlet to all local papers, explaining that Bulgaria might for economic and political reasons be compelled to abandon neutrality and range itself with the central powers.

Campaign in Rumania.

LONDON, September 11.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Bucharest, Rumania, says that the League for the Liberation of Bessarabia is opening an active campaign throughout Rumania, with the object of "awakening the instinct of national preservation."

The second effort to convince the entente minister here that Rumania, not Bulgaria, was at fault was made by Premier Radoslavoff at a dinner given by the entente minister in honor of the new British minister, Hugh J. O'Leary, at which the premier was guest. The Rumanian minister, M. Derussi, however, was absent.

WIDELY DIVERGENT VIEWS HELD BY CABINET AND DUMA MAJORITY

LONDON, September 11.—Reuter's correspondent at Petrograd quotes the Novoevremya as saying that the exchange of views between the cabinet and the new liberal majority in the duma has revealed widely divergent views and that no definite agreement has been reached before Emperor Nicholas.

Leading French statesmen have had under consideration for some time the vast recruiting field which lies open to France in the colonies, especially in China and equatorial Africa. The main features of the bill which M. Masse will present to parliament when it reassembles were proposed by Gen. Marglin, who has considerable experience of service in Morocco and the Sudan.

If the plan is adopted the new army would be composed largely of colored troops.

At a cabinet meeting yesterday, the Novoevremya says, a subcommittee reported the result of a discussion with the liberal majority. The report showed clearly that there would be difficulty in reconciling the views of the government and the liberals.

FRANCE MAY ADD 700,000 MEN FROM COLONIES TO HER ARMIES

PARIS, September 11.—The French government is considering recruiting in their colonies in China and equatorial Africa and a bill has been prepared for such a step, which, if taken, would result in adding 700,000 men to the forces in the field by next spring, it is estimated.

Leading French statesmen have had under consideration for some time the vast recruiting field which lies open to France in the colonies, especially in China and equatorial Africa. The main features of the bill which M. Masse will present to parliament when it reassembles were proposed by Gen. Marglin, who has considerable experience of service in Morocco and the Sudan.

BELGIAN VIOLATION WAS LEGAL BERLIN SAYS FRENCH ACT SHOWS

BERLIN, September 11, by wireless to Tuckerton, N. J.—A message from Basel states that the Swiss committee for the relief of hostages has officially pronounced as untenable the position of the French in declining to liberate hostages taken in Alsace.

International law renders obligatory humane treatment of hostages and the immediate liberation of those who are held in violation of the laws of occupied territory. If such hostility is later reoccupied by the other belligerent the reason for holding hostages removed and their liberation is obligatory.

The greatest part of the Alsatian hostages who have been taken into the hands of the Germans for ten months, the French government to liberate these persons involves an admission of the legality of the association of the Alsatians with the German empire, an admission which is an unavoidable measure of war, but France is obliged morally and legally to free the hostages whose retention is cruel and inhuman.

SWISS CONSIDER CALLING TROOPS TO GUARD NORTHWEST FRONTIER

LONDON, September 11.—Because of "a further concentration of belligerent troops near the Swiss boundaries," the Swiss government, according to advice from Bern, is considering the possibility of calling out additional troops for safeguarding "the northwest frontier." The northwestern frontier of Switzerland runs from the southwest tip of the German border along the French boundary line.

GERMANY SEES BRIGHT PROSPECT OF FOREIGN TRADE AFTER WAR

BERLIN, September 11 (by wireless to Tuckerton, N. J.).—The weekly bulletin of the American Association of Commerce and Trade of Berlin contains interesting statements in regard to conditions in several important branches of the German industry. It points out that German steamship lines are now inactive, except for irregular trade with Scandinavian ports, but that the steamship companies are carrying on their plans for construction of vessels. Several large steamships have been launched and others are being built at profitable prices. The general opinion is that these peaceful times.

RUSS SOLDIERS LOOK TO PEACE; LOATH TO FIGHT, IS REPORT

BERLIN, September 11 (by wireless to Tuckerton, N. J.).—Travelers who have just returned from a trip to Russia contribute to the Neue Zeitung of Zurich articles concerning their impressions of the conditions under which the Russian armies are functioning. These articles are summarized as follows by the Overseas News Agency: "Russia has enough soldiers in the field and sufficient food supplies, but has no arms, officers or ammunition. The army units vary. Some of the units are excellently equipped, but the general impression. Others are just to the contrary.

Unwilling to Serve.

"The men appear unwilling to serve and enthusiasm is seldom noticeable. The soldiers are interested only in the prospects for peace. The lack of officers is particularly noticeable. Frequently large bodies of men may be seen marching without a single officer. In the new formation there is only one officer to a company. The men are available are mostly of old types and not repeating rifles.

"The review of the chemical trade closed with the remark that its financial position was very favorable. Almost all manufacturers have large funds in reserve, which makes it possible for them to carry on quietly the return of peaceful times."

THIRTEEN REPUBLICS ACT.

Appoint Representatives to the International High Commission.

Thirteen of the twenty Latin American republics have responded to a request of Secretary William G. McAdoo of the Treasury Department, and have appointed representatives to the International High Commission, created by the recent Pan-American Financial Conference, to consider uniformity of laws relating to commerce, trade and international commercial credit.

Colombia and Venezuela are the latest to have appointed representatives to the international high commission, the first meeting of which is to be held in Washington. Venezuela will be announced within a few days.

Up to date the following Latin American republics have accepted the proposition and designated representatives to the international high commission: Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Cuba, Ecuador, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras, Nicaragua, Panama, Paraguay, Peru, Salvador and Venezuela. The United States has taken the initiative in the movement.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION TO HOLD ANNUAL MEETING, BEGINNING TOMORROW MORNING.

Reception to Be Given Tomorrow Evening in Honor of Col. Kean, President of the Organization.

RECEPTION TO BE GIVEN TOMORROW EVENING IN HONOR OF COL. KEAN, PRESIDENT OF THE ORGANIZATION.

The men who, if the United States should become involved in war, would pass upon the physical fitness of the recruits and would have charge of the physical upkeep of the army are to meet in annual session in the Raleigh Hotel tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. This is the Association of Military Surgeons of the United States. The convention is of particular importance at this time when the administration is so much concerned regarding the question of national defense and preparedness for war.

Some of the subjects proposed for scientific discussion are of timely public interest, such as "Gases in Warfare," by Medical Director George A. Lung, U. S. N., and "The Submarine, Its Casualties in Peace and in War," by Passed Assistant Surgeon W. H. Halsey, U. S. N.

Local arrangements for the meeting will be taken care of by Col. Kean, chairman. The business meeting is at 9 o'clock. The social hour is at 2 p.m. tomorrow, and will continue each morning and afternoon through Tuesday and Wednesday.
